Railway Empire is a fast paced Train Game and is a remake of the older 2012 released game, Railway Empire 2012. The game is driven by a new and improved physics engine which makes railroading a completely new experience. The game features trains that can run over a multitude of single and multiple track sections, trains that can pass, trains that can run into other trains, trains that can carry passengers and cargo and the whole game is driven by a realistic train driving engine, as well as a network which is set up with Passenger and Freight Trains connecting every single rail network. The game can run on 3 different operating systems which are fully compatible with each other (Windows, iOS and Mac). The game features over 250 Trains from over 20 different Manufactures (mech-trains, hybrid-trains, diesel-trains, electric-trains, hopper cars and passenger trains) and can run through 50+ different landscapes across 10 different Countries. The game features world leader railroad companies that are located in the UK, US and European Countries such as Jochen Müller Schenker (Germany), RailMagic (UK), GEC-Alstom (France) and Bombardier Transportation (Canada). Among other features are the new rail network, the new landscape editor, the new and improved train physics and the new sound engine. The game also features over 600 New Objects such as stations, signals, freight stations, freight terminals, container plants and more. There are over 25 different Countries to visit on the trains as well as 100 different cities and towns that can be visited. The game features a new native steam locomotive engine that will blow your mind away and is packed with new features as well as being the perfect engine for railroads. Steam In A Box is a steam powered loco that has been fully modelled by the developers and it features 14 different unique features, from the power classification to the main gear ratio and the number of cylinders. Steam In A Box has also been made to fit into any environment (Courier, Amfleet, Trainmaster, Railhangar and more) and has been made to fit into any landscape editor (because it's completely modular). Last but not least Steam In A Box is completely based on ALL existing existing technology that was used to create Steam In A Box. The only difference is that Steam In A Box is a completely new unique locomotive that will blow your mind away. Steam In A Box is

Friday, November 25, 2016 Post-Republican America It was a Republican Congress, and regardless of what you think of Donald Trump, he is a Republican. It was a Republican Senate, and regardless of what you think of the "lamestream" media, they at least believe in the constitution and the sovereignty of the United States. It was a Republican Court that decided that Obama's executive order targets Muslims were unconstitutional. So if you're a conservative, you can hardly call it a Republican state. For example, I keep hearing that Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and Ohio are "blue states," that Hillary Clinton has locked in support of her being the next President. I would challenge you on that assertion. While I haven't done extensive research, here's what I can find. As of the last election, Pennsylvania was about 60% Republican. Ohio was about 50% Republican, and a recent poll shows that Hillary Clinton has a commanding lead over Donald Trump in Ohio. Wisconsin was about 45% Republican, and a recent poll shows that Hillary

Ducats To celebrate the first year of acquisition by Jenny, the first of the Leased HST fleet has been repainted in tribute to its new partners, Jenny and the owners of the fleet. For the first time, Jenny has the opportunity to offer her full fleet in livery. All Leased HSTs are being transformed with the addition of both Jenny and Kapa's logos. Digital ART In addition to the livery, the fleet may be decked out with various historic Leased HST crests - recognising that the Leased HST fleet started not in Paris, but in the UK in 1925, and was later founded in Germany in 1928.

Among the myriad possibilities, there could be a crest of the GWR, forged in 1940, or a crest from a later lease holder, such as BR or HKM. Further, it may be possible to supplement the existing London gothic typeface, and add further information - including the old 'J & B' typeface referred to by Pete in his message. As always, the Leased HST Owners' Association Website (is inviting suggestions and debate for this, including the route the digital art takes, and any other items that you would like to see. Tell your story We're calling for passengers to tell their story - especially passengers who've had a bad experience whilst on board a Leased HST train. As a single poster and some lively discussions as part of our Stop HST Week 2017 campaign, we've asked Jenny and others to share memories of the Leased HST fleet from their youth, what it was like to be on board as a child and how the train has changed as they've aged. Jenny is offering £10 for each of these submissions - a surefire way to lift the 'anecdotal and unsystematic' standard of reporting on Leased HSTs. Submissions should be sent to news@independent-shunt.org.uk by 1st November 2017. 150 years of Silverlink Photo and Watch Adverts All possibilities of a Leased HST presentation must currently be discussed with Silverlink, so they offer the following advice for everyone about the endeavour: "It is extremely unusual that
